Who is Behind the Imhealthytoday, LLC (Schools) Program?

In early 2020 as the COVID-19 Pandemic was developing, it became apparent that services to help employers & private schools get back to work/school would be needed. With shelter in place orders issued across the country two organizations (1-800MD & Elite Health) formed a new company effective May 1, 2020 called Imhealthytoday, LLC. (IHT)

In June of 2020, Imhealthytoday, LLC entered into discussions with Atlanta-based, Educator-Resources (a national broker consultant for private schools across all 50 US states) to serve as the distribution & educational consultant for the IHT program.

Educator-Resources initiated eight focus groups consisting of private school association executive directors & private school stakeholders (Board Members, Headmasters, Teachers, Parents and Students) to help review and redesign a “Data Driven - Doctor Managed” school reopening program.
